Watchoutinvestors.com

I found this very useful resource when searching around for something totally unrelated. This free site aided and sponsored by Investor Education and Protection Fund, Ministry of Company Affairs, Government of India list all kinds of indictments by a regulator against any company or person. This site can be very useful if you want to do some kind of background check, before you plan to invest in a specific company.

And surprisingly this site seems to regularly updated.

Note: Needs free registration to use the site
